William Giles and Nicholas Perkins

1679 Henrico defense assessment

William Giles (#2750) and Nicholas Perkins Sr. (#2744): the published Henrico assessment transcription lists Wm Giles with four tithables and Nicholas Perkins with one. Both names appear in the grouping notified through John Millner. The assessment required groups of tithables to equip men, horses and arms.

This is defense-support evidence. It does not identify either man as the mounted soldier supplied by the group, give either a military rank, or establish personal participation in armed conflict. A tithable count is not a count of battles or soldiers personally commanded.

Identity and existing profile qualifications

The entries give names without ages or kinship. Their association with these existing Henrico profiles remains subject to the established identity evidence. Nicholas retains the master's name Nicholas Perkins Sr.; the report's generational suffix is not substituted. Existing dates, ancestry grades and parentage remain unchanged. Giles: pedigree p. 18 and proof p. 819. Perkins: pedigree p. 18 and evidence pp. 169-178.

The report's three-tithable figure for Nicholas is not adopted. The inspected list names Edward Bowman and John Bowman elsewhere; it does not substantiate the report's Robert Bowman claim. No Bowman military credit is added from this list. The date is stated as 1679 because the inspected transcription does not independently establish the report's precise day for the assessment.

John Pryor: colonial civil service

Orange County representation in the Assembly

The published colonial Assembly return names John Pryor alongside Hermon Husband as representatives for Orange County. A separate attendance list names John Pryor among the members who appeared, followed by the prescribed qualification by oath. These records document legislative service during the Regulation period.

This civil-office record is associated with the existing Orange County testator profile on a qualified name-and-place basis. The Assembly entry itself does not identify Green Pryor or the testator's descendants. The master's High B family correlation remains unchanged; the office record does not supply a new parentage proof.

Military claims are not admitted

The inspected Assembly pages do not establish Captain, Major or Colonel, a militia commission, or participation in battle. The report's 1759-1761 service dates and proposed justice-of-the-peace details are not incorporated as newly verified facts. No new military badge or veteran count is assigned.

Existing identity and dates remain controlling

John Pryor, Orange County testator (#684): will dated 28 September 1771, proved January 1772, Orange County Will Book A:160-163. The report's alternative date, page and expanded list of sons are not substituted. Existing profile p. 666; original will pp. 534-540; family correlation p. 139.

Vicksburg and the Kirkland-Shaw family

Baze / Bazell Shaw (#76): presence and timing

Shaw's retained Company D, 59th Tennessee service jacket records discharge at Vicksburg on 22 March 1863. That is a personal Vicksburg connection before the siege; it is not proof of service in the May-July siege or of a July surrender parole. The report's proposed shared-siege narrative is therefore not admitted to his profile.

Israel T. Hollingshead (#72) and John Kirkland

Israel's controlling record identifies Company C, 39th North Carolina Infantry and a November 1862 discharge. The report substitutes the 43rd Tennessee and a Vicksburg parole; those claims are excluded. John Kirkland's May 1862 affidavit describes him as a former second lieutenant in Company B, 3rd Tennessee Volunteers. Later operations of that regiment do not establish his personal presence.

What a family or unit intersection can establish

Related men may have served in the same region or in regiments whose later histories intersect. A personal meeting, shared battle, or shared captivity requires evidence for each individual during the relevant dates. The reports' collateral Kirkland parole claims are preserved in the intake ledger pending exact original entries and identity checks; they do not establish that Shaw, Israel or John shared the July 1863 surrender.

Kirkland-Shaw narrative: the existing evidence remains

The family relationship and the attributed deaths of Bas, Jeff and Jim remain in the existing illustrated section, pp. 743-814, with the qualifications already stated there. James Washington Shaw's documented identity is retained. The indictment on p. 811 records an accusation; the sheriff's return on p. 812 records a failure to find the defendants in the county. Neither establishes guilt, a conviction, or that a defendant was never arrested. No inferred escape route or travel time is added.

Controlling retained sources

Bazel Shaw: NARA RG 109, M268 roll 336, item 181086393, complete jacket pp. 634-641. Israel Hollingshead: retained jacket pp. 237-241. John Kirkland: May 17, 1862 affidavit and original pp. 813-814; M268 roll 126, image 2938. Monroe Circuit Court case 75: TeVA monr048_01 and monr048_08, reproduced pp. 811-812. No new personal combat claim is established by this synthesis.

David Roper: project Patriot #8

David Roper (#606) is accepted in this project as Patriot #8, Grade A/B for correlated civil/political service. The ancestry/parentage grade remains B. This is not a claim of military service or verified DAR/SAR recognition.

Reported election participation, 10 December 1776

L. David Roper's compilation lists Davd Roper as an elector in the Orange County poll for delegates to Congress, citing North Carolina Genealogical Society Journal, May 1984, p. 99. The compilation was inspected. The actual journal page and original poll have not been inspected. The official journal catalog confirms the corresponding article, not the individual entry. Neither delegate status nor the report's Fifth Provincial Congress wording is adopted.

Petition and tax context

The published Colonial Records of North Carolina IX:809-810 reproduces a North Orange petition seeking county division because of the burdens of attending courts and general musters. David Roper appears on printed p. 810. The compilation dates the petition to 1773; the reproduced printed pages do not explicitly date it. This is civil participation, not proof of personal militia duty.

The same compilation reports David Roper Sen. in the 1777 Caswell tax list, Richmond District, assessed on £403 8s. of property. The list was returned in December 1777 and certified 2 May 1778. This is an assessment, not a payment receipt or military service record. The original tax list and cited Kendall compilation remain uninspected.

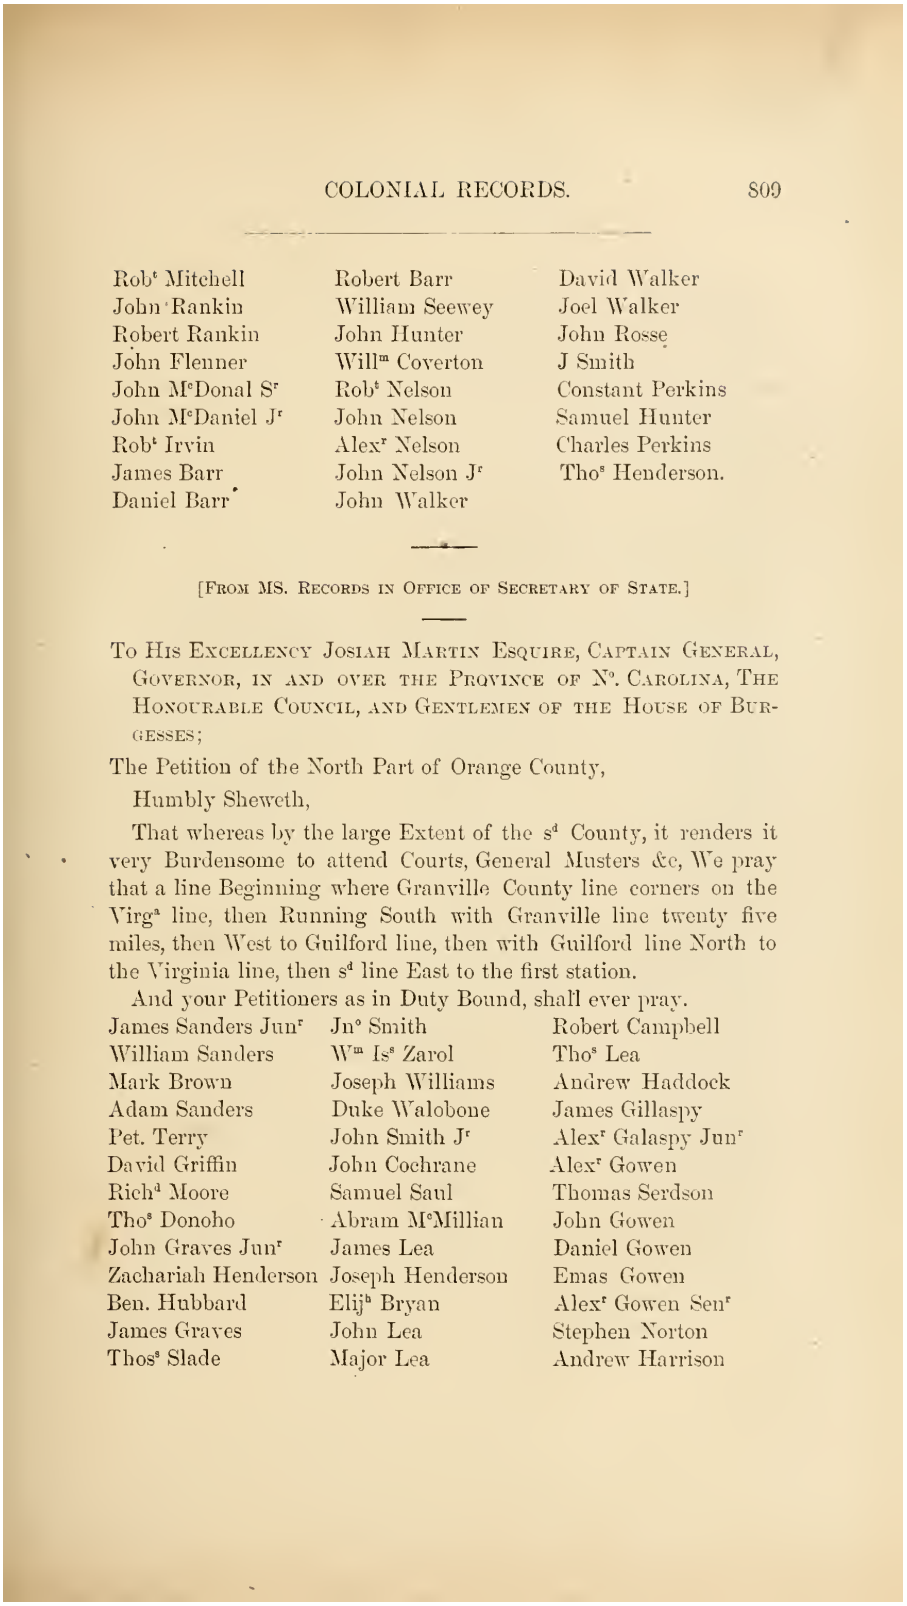

Identity and custody

The name-only petition and poll do not independently identify every same-name man. Association with this existing profile remains correlated. The younger David Roper's pension is not transferred to the elder. No new parentage, dates, or ancestor is admitted. Source plates and a source-access account follow; the original HTML, full printed volume and journal catalog are preserved separately.

Roper: source access and accepted scope

The accepted A/B project classification and the degree of direct source access are separate facts. The 1776 election entry is presently available through an inspected compilation, not a newly inspected original poll.

Election locator

L. David Roper, Roper Families in North Carolina (1600-1799), entry for 10 December 1776; cites North Carolina Genealogical Society Journal, May 1984, p. 99. Official catalog: Volume 10, Number 2 includes Freeholders of Orange County, NC-1776. Catalog confirmation alone does not establish the elector's identity.

Tax locator

The compilation cites Katharine Kerr Kendall, Caswell County North Carolina Land Grants, Tax Lists, State Census, Apprentice Bonds, Estate Records. Its 1777 list distinguishes David Roper Sen. from David Roper Jun. The assessment and later certification dates are retained separately. No uninspected text is presented as a newly inspected original.

Preserved evidence and unresolved access

The source archive contains the original retrieved compilation HTML, complete Colonial Records IX PDF, petition renders, official NCGS article catalog and checksums. It does not contain the missing journal page or original poll. These remain precise follow-up gaps; they are not silently treated as recovered.

1679 Henrico County Tithe List
Transcribed by Frankie Liles
Henrico County Historical Society

Henrico County suffered a massive loss of its 1600's records. This is a very important early Henrico County record because it is the only known extant tithe list for Henrico County and is one of the earliest Henrico County records that survived. This list, used in conjunction with the early Henrico County land patents (which do survive) can be used to reconstruct the neighborhoods of the residents who appear on this tithe list.

Captain John Knowles: contemporary title

General Court entries style John Knowles Capt on 17 June 1675 and 5 October 1675 in proceedings involving the Henrico County sheriff. These contemporary published entries corroborate use of the title by 1675.

What the documents establish

The June entry appears on printed p. 411; the October entry appears on p. 419 under the 5th Day heading begun on p. 418. The incoming October 4 date is corrected to October 5. All three supporting pages follow.

The title alone does not independently distinguish militia from maritime capacity, identify a commission date or unit, or establish combat. Earlier use of Mr does not prove a commissioning window. The civil proceedings do not establish criminal guilt.

Profile placement and grades

These records supplement Captain John Knowles (#5502), pedigree p. 18 and family proof p. 819. Existing ancestry and identity qualifications remain unchanged. No new veteran count or parentage is admitted. A title attestation is not graded as proof of an unlocated military commission.

John Yates: frontier-service context

John Yates Sr. (#302) retains the service established in W20142: six months under Francis Hargrove in 1776, three months under Benjamin Cleveland in 1777, and two and a half months under David Viars and Cleveland in 1780. The complete original packet remains on pp. 831-862.

Lewis' Fort: corroborating company context

Moses Waters's 1832 declaration, published in Will Graves's S9518 transcription, describes Hargrave's company gathering at Holman's Ford in June 1776 and serving at Lewis' Fort on a branch of the Yadkin. He describes frontier guard duty and a subsequent march to Pleasant Gardens to join Rutherford. Waters also corroborates Yates's service in W20142. The matching commander, place and tour support a qualified A/B association of Yates's unnamed fort with this company context; they do not independently prove every action by Yates.

The transcript records the expedition's destruction of Cherokee towns and provisions. Such company history is not converted into a claim that Yates personally performed each act or fought every reported engagement. The three-page Waters transcript follows with its transcriber's source warning and attribution intact.

Other tours and reported additions

The Carter's Fort and Long Island treaty-ground tour is already documented on p. 824. Yates reached the returning Kings Mountain army after the battle and guarded prisoners; the retained packet controls. Other veterans' route details, named stations, executions and specific daily movements are not assigned personally to Yates without matching evidence. Ellison's Station is not silently equated with Lewis' Fort.

The reports' proposed Draper request/receipt interpretation, exact daily itinerary and additional collateral declarations remain research leads unless their exact wording and applicability are verified. They do not change the 11.5-month credit or accepted STRONG B daughterhood.

State of North Carolina Wilkes County

On this 29th day of October 1832 personally appeared in open Court before the Court of Pleas & Quarter Sessions of the County of & State of North Carolina now sitting Moses Watters Esquire a resident of the County of Wilkes & State of North Carolina, aged seventy-eight years, who being first duly sworn according to law, doth, on his oath, make the following declaration, in order to obtain the benefit of the act of Congress passed June 7th 1832 --

That he was born on the 15th day of May 1753 in the County of Baltimore & State of Maryland, the record of which he has in a large book now in his possession & where he resided until he was about eighteen years of age when he removed to Wilkes County North Carolina, where he resided until he entered the service of the United States as a volunteer, in the month of June 1776, in a company of militia raised partly by draft and partly by volunteer and commanded by Captain Francis Hargrave. This company rendezvoused at Holman's Ford on the Yadkin [River] in the said County of Wilkes, and immediately repaired to an eligible position on a branch of the said River called Lewis' Fort, where they were stationed a considerable time guarding the frontier settlements, and occasionally scouring the surrounding country to keep in check the Cherokee Indians, who at that time were very troublesome and dangerous, from the many depredations which they had committed upon the whites -- About the last of August or first of September following, Captain Hargrave received orders to march with his company against the Cherokee nation of Indians, and accordingly as soon as they could prepare, they set out upon their march, and rendezvoused at the Pleasant Gardens in the County of Burke, where they joined the troops under General Rutherford [Griffith Rutherford]. After remaining a few days at the Pleasant Gardens for the troops all to collect and organize, they marched direct to the Cherokee Towns of Cowee, Oconeluflu [?], the Valley Towns & some others not recollected -- upon arriving at the these Towns the Indians made but a feeble resistance -- in one instance however they fired upon the advance guard of the American Army, and then made their escape. The Indians having generally fled, and abandoned their towns upon the approach of the Army, there remained but little to do, more than to destroy their Towns, Corn and other property, and to commit such depredations upon them as was in their power -- the Army returned to North Carolina where they were discharged, and each man repaired to his home, which place this deponent reached some time in the month of December -- having been in service from the time he first entered it, about six months.

This deponent remained at home from the time of his return, until the fall of the year 1780 (having however in the meantime hired a substitute to perform one tour of duty) when he volunteered himself again, and joined a company of Light Horse commanded by Captain John Beverly which was under the Superior command of Colonel Benjamin Herndon, and marched directed from Wilkes County to the Cherokee Nation, -- and after burning several Indian Towns they returned home, having been gone about one month (though they were promised by their officers that it should be accounted to them for a three months tour).

About the first of March 1781, at the time that Lord Cornwallis was marching through North Carolina, orders were given for all the militia in the County of Wilkes to muster and march in pursuit of him -- this deponent repaired immediately to Wilkes CH and joined the company of Captain Robert Cleveland, and marched direct towards Salem NC but before reaching that place, an express met them with intelligence of the battle of Guilford, and the march of Lord Cornwallis' Army towards Wilmington; upon hearing which, the deponent and the troops that were with him, were ordered to return home, which place they reached about the last of March, having been gone about three or four weeks -- this closed the service performed by this deponent during the revolutionary war.

This deponent has lived in the County of Wilkes ever since the revolutionary war, and resides there at this time. He has no documentary evidence to prove his services, although he received discharges for a part of them, but cannot tell what has become of them. He refers however to Mr. David Laws[1] for proof of the tour under General Rutherford. The rest of his services, he knows of no person living, who can prove them. He refers to the Reverend Thomas Fletcher & Jno. Ferguson as persons to whom he is well acquainted, and who can testify as to his character for veracity, and their belief of his services as a soldier of the revolution.

He hereby relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present, and declares that his name is not on the pension roll of the agency of any State.

Frontier claims: what remains unresolved

Every supplied frontier claim is retained in the research intake. Unsupported personal service is not promoted into an ancestor's established record. These holds are not assertions that an ancestor never served.

Andrew Bass Sr. (#1296)

The reported 1754 Craven/Johnston militia enrollment has not been matched to an exact inspected Andrew Bass entry. A nearby Thomas Bass listing is not a substitute. The report's broad State Records XXII page range is retained as a locator; no rank, company or combat is admitted.

Nicholas Perkins (#686), Halifax frontier

The alleged 1758 militia, ranger-provisioning or fort assignment has not been established by an exact named source entry. County frontier history supplies context, not individual service. No personal military credit is added. This man is distinct from Nicholas Perkins Sr. (#2744), associated with the 1679 assessment.

Bowman and Pryor

The complete 1679 transcription names Edward and John Bowman, not the asserted Robert Bowman. Robert's claimed participation is excluded. John Pryor's inspected Assembly record establishes civil legislative service on a qualified name-and-county association; military ranks and the report's 1759-1761 dates are not established.

Other claimed absences and family service

Unverified assertions that Studghel, Lenderman, Young, Kirkland, Tucker, Clark, Rice or McCommon never served are not adopted as exhaustive negative findings. Neighbor service, a relative's pension, landholding and geographic proximity do not transfer service to these profiles. Reports and original grades remain preserved.

Evidence: corrected Henrico transcription pp. 866, 874-875; Pryor pp. 867-868, 885. Remaining specific source gaps and report locators are recorded in the incorporation ledger.

John Pryor: Assembly attendance

Mr Vail and Mr Dawson waited on His Excellency the Governor and acquainted him that a sufficient number of Members to constitute a House were met, and desire His Excellency to appoint some of the Members of the Council to see them qualified.

The Members being returned brought for answer that His Excellency would appoint two members accordingly.

The Honble William Dry and Robert Palmer, Esquires, two of the members of Council, came to the House, and the above forty two members qualified by taking the Oaths by Law appointed for the qualification of public officers, and repeating and subscribing the Test.

The members waited on His Excellency the Governor in the Council Chamber when he was pleased to direct that they return to the House and make choice of a Speaker.

The members being returned to the House Mr Caswell proposed and set up Colonel John Harvey for Speaker, who was unanimously chosen and placed in the chair accordingly.

Henry Tucker: reported 1815 tax entry

An inspected online compiled abstract lists Henry Tucker with 43 acres on the south side of Laurel Fork adjoining James Keys, valued at $343, in an 1815 Washington County, Virginia assessment. This is a tax-record lead, not military service.

Source and conflict preserved

Bob and Donna Jean Ford, compilers, Reed/Reid Family Data, RamblingRoots.com, cite Mary B. Kegley's Supplement to Southwest Virginia Tax Assessments, 1815 (1992). The webpage was inspected; the underlying assessment and Kegley page were not. The section collectively cites pp. 11, 17, 19 and 28, without an isolated page for this Tucker entry.

The master's retained deed concerns 143 acres on the north side. Those are materially different descriptions. The 43-acre south-side abstract is therefore retained as a qualified research association, not silently merged with the 143-acre deed or used to change existing dates and parentage. No service in a numbered militia regiment is inferred, and no exhaustive claim that he never served is adopted.

Existing Henry Tucker (#64) proof and dates remain on pp. 21-23, 652, 654, 687, 689 and 698-699.
